WELCOME FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Among New Zealand universities, Massey is unique. Throughout its 90-year history Massey has played a defining role in the development of New Zealand through its ground-breaking research, contribution to land-based industries, distinctive mix of internal, distance and international teaching, commitment to innovation and close links with the community. Massey staff and students have led the way in business innovation, creative arts, food, animal and general sciences, health, humanities and social sciences, many of these delivered through New Zealand's largest and most successful distance learning service.

Massey is recognised as a leading teaching university and is host to the National Centre for Tertiary Teaching Excellence. It is also a research leader and has numerous collaborations with other researchers at institutions in New Zealand and around the world.

We are proud of our commitment to Māori and Pasifika students. Our international focus has seen Massey establish a strong presence in Asia. By joining Massey you are making a decision to carry on a tradition that has shaped New Zealand and made significant contributions around the world. It is that history which makes Massey students so in-demand.

Employers like the mix of values, practical competencies and relevant knowledge that a Massey graduate represents.

Wherever you choose to study you will be able to access a comprehensive range of undergraduate and postgraduate programmes covering everything from education to humanities and social sciences, to sciences, engineering and health, to arts and business.

This prospectus showcases all of our postgraduate offerings. You will learn about our three campuses at Auckland, Manawatū and Wellington and the flexibility of distance learning. There is information about resources and services available for postgraduate students at Massey.

The back of the book is a listing of postgraduate programmes offered at Massey, with brief descriptions and information about availability.

Whatever you choose to do, Massey is committed to ensuring you are prepared to take on whatever challenges you may encounter in the future.

Professor Jan Thomas, Vice-Chancellor

WHAT IS POSTGRADUATE STUDY?

HE AHA TE AKO
PAERUA?

Postgraduate study enables you to take your career to the next level, through in-depth study in a particular area of interest. It helps you take your prior experience and knowledge, and use your initiative as you research, and contribute to your field of expertise. It requires planning, dedication and will take time away from your everyday life, but ultimately your hard work could open the door to new opportunities and greater responsibility.

HOW DOES IT DIFFER FROM UNDERGRADUATE STUDY?

During your undergraduate study, you will have learned many of the skills required to study successfully at postgraduate level. However, it is important to realise that postgraduate study requires greater independence, and you'll need to use your own initiative in completing course work and undertaking research projects.

You'll generally be expected to have some knowledge and prior experience in your subject area, however postgraduate study can also be used to support a career transition. As an example, a person with a science PhD may contemplate an MBA. You'll be supported and encouraged by your supervisors in a range of ways, but in many circumstances, you'll be in the driving seat when it comes to getting work done.

Postgraduate study is more strongly focused on theory and research in the discipline, and many postgraduate qualifications have a research component. You'll also be expected to possess a higher level of critical thinking and analysis, show that you read extensively, and can develop your own views, and defend them.

ARE YOU READY FOR POSTGRADUATE STUDY?

Postgraduate study requires time, commitment, and a range of skills beyond those you may have needed as an undergraduate. We have provided a series of online tools and resources to help you think about the different aspects of studying at a distance, and to assess your abilities, time commitments and motivations for study. Check them out on the Massey website: massey.ac.nz/postgrad

FINDING TIME FOR STUDY

Studying at university requires a significant time investment. Students often comment that balancing their everyday commitments with study requirements can be challenging. It is important to carefully consider how many courses you should take, especially when beginning your study. You should be realistic about the number of courses you can take in a semester and consider all your existing commitments. You will need to spend approximately 24 to 24 hours each week for a 30-credit single semester course, or about 10 to 12 hours per week for a 30-credit double semester course.

PATHWAYS TO POSTGRADUATE STUDY

Most postgraduate students enter their study already possessing a bachelor's degree. However, if you want to change the direction or focus of your study, you may need to begin with a graduate diploma. Masters' degrees can be one- or two-year programmes, depending on your entry route. They can be mainly coursework, a combination of coursework and a research project or thesis, or a thesis only. Doctoral degrees are awarded entirely for research reported in your thesis (PhD) or for a combination of coursework and a thesis (the 'Named' doctorates).

TYPES OF PROGRAMMES AVAILABLE

HONOURS DEGREE

Honours degrees are postgraduate qualifications comprising an additional year of study beyond the bachelor's degree in the discipline. Entry to an Honours degree requires prior high academic performance in undergraduate degree study. Students selected for an Honours degree will enrol in the postgraduate degree after completing the undergraduate degree. Completing an Honours degree may qualify you for doctoral study if your achievement is high enough.

MASTER'S DEGREE

A master's programme allows you to undertake advanced study – usually on the main subject in your qualifying undergraduate degree. Some Master's programmes allow you to move into a different discipline from your undergraduate study.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA

A postgraduate diploma builds on your prior academic achievement, and generally takes one year of full-time study to complete. It can lead to further study at Master's or Doctorate level.

DOCTORATE (PHD)

The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree is the qualification to kick-start your research career. It is the highest degree Massey offers regularly. It can be acquired in most of the disciplines, including the creative arts. It may involve external supervisors from a CRI, or other research institute. It is Massey's most supervised, fully research-based degree.

A PhD is awarded for a thesis, which is an integrated and coherent report demonstrating your ability to carry out independent research and analysis at an advanced level in a particular field. Your thesis should make an original contribution to knowledge of the subject it focuses upon.

It will be assessed by three independent examiners in a process that includes thesis assessment reports and an oral examination. It normally takes at least three years of full-time study to complete a PhD. If you'd prefer to study part-time, you need to allow five to six years to complete the research and writing.

NAMED DOCTORATES

Massey University offers two named doctoral degrees:

- > Doctor of Clinical Psychology (DClinPsych)
- > Doctor of Social Work (DSW)

These are specially-designed degrees involving high-level study and research. They are ideal professional development options for existing and prospective senior managers and leaders.

Named doctorates basically comprise one-third course work/practicum and two-thirds supervised research. In all other respects – including the examination procedure – they're equivalent to a PhD, especially in the standards of discipline, rigour and scholarship required.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Entry requirements for each programme vary, so it's best to talk to the team at Massey University to find out what level of postgraduate study is right for you.

REPUTATION AND RANKINGS

TE RONGO ME TE TAUMATA

Each year more than 20% of Massey University's student population study at postgraduate level, including 1000 Doctoral (PhD) degree students. Massey University has an international reputation for its research innovation, practices and results, which are applied to postgraduate programmes of study. The University also has strong international links across the globe, with accreditation and endorsements across a number of programmes. Massey University's teaching and research departments are divided into five colleges:

COLLEGE OF CREATIVE ARTS TOI RAUWHARANGI

Based in Wellington, the College of Creative Arts is a world-class art and design school which:

- > Is ranked in the top two for the Asia-Pacific region by international design awards agency RED DOT, giving Massey a distinctive seal of quality for its design programmes
- > The first art and design school outside North America to be awarded "substantial equivalency" by the US accreditation body NASAD – the most comprehensive international benchmark for art and design education in the world
- > Number one in New Zealand for design and visual art research, according to the 2012 New Zealand government Performance Based Research Funding round.
- > Has a legacy of more than a century of creative education.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH TE KURA HAUORA TANGATA

As the University's newest college, established in 2013, we are focused on solving the most important health challenges of the 21st century. The college connects people across five collaborative units with outstanding expertise and programmes in nursing, human nutrition and dietetics, food technology, physiology, public health, sport and exercise, social work, environmental and occupational health, and disability and rehabilitation.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES – TE KURA PŪKENGĀ TANGATA

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences has a strong research tradition and profile, representing a diverse range of themes, research methods and groups, from individual researchers to major research teams and centres. It also has a strong outreach focus, and we are well-connected to government departments including the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Social Development and Treasury. We are also connected to national and international research and policy communities, including the Health Research Council, the Asia New Zealand Foundation and the Max Planck Institute for the Study of Religious and Ethnic Diversity.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCES TE WĀHANGA PŪ TAIAO

Massey University's College of Sciences' world-leading scientists are internationally-acclaimed and ranked. Our programmes of study and research attract world-leading academics and we have active research collaborations with the world's most prestigious scientific institutions. We demand excellence in our research and bring together experts from several disciplines to focus on four fields to further knowledge and make a difference in New Zealand and the world. Those fields are:

- > Agriculture, Veterinary and Life Sciences
- > Land, Water and the Environment
- > Industrial Innovation through Engineering and Technology
- > Natural and Fundamental Sciences

MASSEY BUSINESS SCHOOL KAUPAPA WHAI PAKIKI

As one of the country's leading and largest business schools, Massey Business School is ranked among the top two per cent of business schools globally and is AACSB accredited. Massey's business and management programme has been ranked in the top 200 universities in the world by Quacquarelli Symonds (QS). We have programme-specific endorsements in accountancy, finance and aviation.

Massey Business School's discipline areas rank highly in the 2018 QS ranking, with Accounting and Finance ranked in the top 150, and Business and Management Studies in the top 200.

In addition, a number of academic staff are highly ranked, such as Professor Harald van Heerde who is ranked No.1 in Australasia and 11th in the world for Marketing. MBS is also highly accredited having achieved AACSB (General), AACSB (Accounting) and AMBA accreditations, and many professional accreditations including, Accountancy (ACCA, CPA, CIMA, CAANZ), Finance (CFA teaching partner), Property/Construction (RICS) and Communications (ACEJMC).

HE AHA I WHIRI AI KO TE KUNENGA KI PŪREHUROA? WHY CHOOSE MASSEY UNIVERSITY?

For more than 80 years, Massey University has helped shape the lives and communities of people in New Zealand and around the world. Its forward-thinking spirit, research-led teaching, and cutting-edge discoveries make Massey New Zealand's defining university.

INNOVATIVE RESEARCH

Massey has a reputation for research excellence on an international scale with inspirational people, stimulating subject matter and extensive resources and support.

We offer a wide-ranging academic portfolio designed to satisfy global research needs and pave the way for future generations. We are associated with and receive public funding from leading organisations such as the Marsden Fund, the Health Research Council and the Ministry of Education.

Massey is home to many innovative research initiatives:

- > New Zealand's most powerful nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer
- > The EpiCentre
- > New Zealand Institute for Advanced Study
- > The Centre for Public Health Research
- > Riddet Institute

PART OF THE NEW NEW ZEALAND

Massey works closely with businesses and the wider community. These links have helped ensure our postgraduate degrees are highly sought after, with great value and relevance in the marketplace.

Massey University also encourages students to build relationships with external partners by undertaking research projects off-campus. Often this research is with staff in the private sector, the government, and industry research entities, both domestically and internationally.

Recent initiatives include:

- > Biocommerce Centre, established adjacent to the Manawatū campus, to grow the Biotechnology industry in the Manawatū region of New Zealand
- > The Centre for Organisational Excellence Research
- > Auckland's Albany-based ecentre, a highly successful incubator for new businesses
- > Te Pumanawa Hauora: Research Centre for Māori Health and Development

Massey is also active in national and regional business incubators that bring together the skills of industry and academia, such as Creative HQ. Many of New Zealand's defining people undertook postgraduate work at Massey. They've gone on to make significant contributions to both New Zealand and the wider world. A postgraduate qualification from Massey could set you on the path to becoming one of New Zealand's defining people.

THE SUPPORT YOU NEED

We want to help you succeed in your postgraduate studies. Massey offers student services and workshops designed to give students assistance where it's needed. Our student services can assist you with accommodation, health, counselling, recreation, childcare, and other personal services, while our workshops and seminars will help you develop the academic and research skills needed to excel in your studies.

FLEXIBILITY

We offer three locations for on-campus study, in Auckland, Palmerston North and Wellington. We also have an extensive distance learning (extramural) programme, so you can choose where and when you want to study instead of being forced into regular lectures and timetables. Nearly half of all our students study via distance learning, with about a fifth of them being postgraduate students.

■ JESSICA PAWLEY Master of Arts, New Zealand Author

Her e-books for teens have already attracted more than one million readers. She has huge international and New Zealand fan bases. Now Massey University Master of Arts (MA) graduate Jessica Pawley has signed off international screen adaptation rights for her just-published science fiction novel 'Air Born'.

Published as J L Pawley, she was picked up by award-winning New Zealand publisher Steam Press in 2016, and Air Born was launched in Auckland and hit New Zealand bookstores in October 2017. The Russian and Chinese translation rights have also been sold – huge markets for the young writer who graduated with a first class Master of Arts in 2017. Air Born is the first novel of her young adult sci-fi series Generation Icarus, an earlier version which she self-published through an e-book streaming app. Through this platform, she cultivated a strong relationship with her fan base. The feedback from readers contributed to the evolution of the series, and their love for the books led to the enthusiastic creation of fan art, fan fiction, and social media accounts.

The story centres on a group of diverse teenagers – including a Māori main character, who unexpectedly grow wings – and are forced to band together for survival as they are caught between extremists of both science and religion. It has had excellent public and critical feedback and, less than two months after launch, Steam Press are already preparing for a second print run.

An avid reader since childhood, Jessica's long-held dream was to write full-time. She says being driven, determined and disciplined helped achieve international success. She even researched the physics and biology of animal flight to create a believable sense of being a winged creature. Currently immersed in meetings with film producers and busy working to tight deadlines on television project development as well as honing her next book in the series, she says, "It's still very surreal." And real: "I've got so much work to do!"

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE TO STUDY AT MASSEY UNIVERSITY?

As a former student, I was already familiar with Massey's academic quality and structure. Administration and support was very smooth, friendly, and helpful. Most significantly, the extramural availability is excellent. This was the option that fit in the best with my existing life commitments.

WHAT WAS THE BEST PART ABOUT YOUR EXPERIENCE?

Seeing my own growth and improvement not just in my own writing skills, but also in my appreciation for others' craft, from teaching how to write essays to appreciating poetry. Daring to present my own interpretation and having it not only accepted but praised by my teachers, and the encouragement to pursue professional academic publication was exceedingly validating. The thrill of discovering new aspects of our language and culture that no one else had studied in the same way before was a little addictive!

HOW DID IT HELP YOU SUCCEED IN BUILDING A CAREER AS A WRITER?

I chose to do a MA because I could take creative writing courses, but I could also study other aspects of English such as the teaching of academic (essay) writing, and examining NZ fiction and poetry alongside well-known international works. I felt this widened my future opportunities rather than narrowed my expertise. I was also able to focus my academic research on a developing aspect of English that is highly relevant to my own career; online reading platforms, and the social media and digital community structures that develop within and around the e-books, including my own. Understanding how my readers relate to each other and the books helps me contribute much more effectively as a provider of content, which in turn benefits my career.

WHAT'S YOUR TOP ADVICE TO SOMEONE WHO MAY BE CONSIDERING TAKING THIS PROGRAMME?

Remember that it will be much more work than you think it will be. Be humble, but don't be afraid to stick up for yourself and your well-informed, evidence-based opinion.

■ MARIE-LYNE BOURNIVAL

Master of Nursing
Nurse Practitioner

HeiHei Health Centre, Christchurch
After 29 years of nursing in primary and secondary care, Marie-Lyne Bournival knew she was capable of achieving much more. So she completed her Master of Nursing at Massey University in 2015. That led her to her role as a nurse practitioner (NP) intern at Wigram Health, an integrated family health centre in Christchurch, serving 10,000 patients. In 2016, she obtained her NP registration. Today while she works as a nurse practitioner, establishing her own patient base, she also leads a team of 20 as the General Manager.

"The MN is critical to advance your career. I chose Massey for its extensive choice of courses and the support I got from the word go! All my lecturers were amazingly engaged, wanting us to succeed. To achieve a balanced life working four days a week and running a house with three teenagers, I focused on one course at a time. Massey is ahead of the game – academic and clinical expertise, library and IT support, and supportive lecturers. Being the Number One nursing school for research in New Zealand meant my lecturers were at the forefront of research, teaching and leadership. I met fantastic nurses from all over the country who are now lifelong friends."

"As an NP, I work collaboratively with medical, administrative and nursing teams to deliver the best care for our patients. We've established a unique model of care including daily huddles, rooming patients, advanced and independent nurse clinics, triage and treatment of acute presentations. It has been clearly recognised that the nursing team is crucial to high quality care and a thriving business.

As a result, we have now two nurses on the NP pathway. Both chose to attend Massey University. We have also established a junior nurse role where a new graduate can gently and safely learn practice nursing. These are all part of strategies to implement a career pathway for primary health care nurses whether it's clinical (nurse prescriber, nurse practitioner) or management (policy and procedures, business ventures). All this is thanks to my MN which allowed me to consolidate new knowledge, both clinical and leadership.

Without a doubt, Massey was the best decision for my career and for improving the outcomes of our patients. It's my mission to make primary healthcare nursing a career pathway."

■ NICK SNEDDON

Post-doctoral Fellow in Dairy Systems,
Institute of Veterinary, Animal and Biomedical Sciences; PhD in Animal
Breeding and Genetics, Graduated 2016
Forest View High School, Tokoroa

I became interested in genetics at high school. Coming from a dairy farming family, animal breeding was able to combine both interests.

Massey gave me the opportunity to study with some of the best dairy cattle geneticists in the world, and use the university's links with international researchers and institutes. It has been an enjoyable challenge, with new techniques and areas of knowledge to learn.

I had two-and-a-half months studying at Moorepark dairy research centre in Ireland during the second year of my PhD. This gave me the opportunity to see another country and work with internationally-renowned researchers.

My PhD topic was "A Genetic and Economic Evaluation of Lactose in the New Zealand Dairy Industry". I estimated the heritability of lactose in the New Zealand dairy industry, and the effect of including lactose into the dairy breeding objective. I found that including lactose could save the industry $60 million a year. In 2016, I presented more results from my research at the joint New Zealand Society of Animal Production/Australian Society of Animal Production conference in Adelaide.

Working with my supervisors was a great experience. I have continued to work with them on different projects now that I have completed my degree.

Since graduating, I have worked on projects with several national organisations and have made new connections with researchers both nationally and internationally. I hope to stay within research in the dairy industry – either continuing here at Massey or with a national industry body such as DairyNZ or LIC.

TAHUA NGORE SCHOLARSHIPS

MASSEY MASTERATE SCHOLARSHIP

Masterate Scholarships are offered for the purpose of encouraging postgraduate research at Massey University. Applicants must be enrolled or eligible to enrol full-time in a 120-credit research programme towards a master's degree at Massey University.

MASSEY DOCTORAL SCHOLARSHIP

Massey University Doctoral Scholarships are offered to encourage full-time doctoral studies at Massey University. They are open to domestic and international students. Applicants require an excellent academic record and must be enrolled or eligible to enrol in a 120-credit doctoral research course. The Vice Chancellor's Doctoral Scholarships are awarded on academic ranking in October each year to the top domestic doctoral recipients who start their scholarship within the funding year.

The Massey Doctoral scholarships are offered through the Colleges. Please see the regulations for the individual college you wish to study with. Currently Creative Arts, Health, Humanities and Social Sciences, and Sciences have specific information for interested students.

INTERNATIONAL POSTGRADUATES

NEW ZEALAND INTERNATIONAL DOCTORAL RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIPS (NZIDRS)

New Zealand International Doctoral Research Scholarships provide financial support for postgraduate students seeking doctoral degrees by research in New Zealand universities. Up to 10 scholarships are awarded annually. These scholarships are funded by the New Zealand Government and administered by the Education New Zealand Trust.

NEW ZEALAND DEVELOPMENT SCHOLARSHIPS

New Zealand Development Scholarships are available to candidates from the following countries: Bolivia, Ecuador, Honduras, Kenya, Mongolia, Nepal, Nicaragua, South Africa, Tanzania, and Zambia. Candidates independently apply for scholarships that covers tuition, return airfare, medical and travel insurance and a living allowance. Applicants must have an offer of place before the application deadline, or the application will not be considered. Download the application form or visit the New Zealand Aid Programme website: mfat.govt.nz

The New Zealand ASEAN Scholars Award provides postgraduate scholarships for applicants from Cambodia, Indonesia, the Philippines, Lao PDR, Myanmar and Vietnam. Selection criteria are determined by partner governments. Applicants must apply for the scholarship via their home country. Scholarships cover tuition, return airfare, medical and travel insurance and a living allowance. Funding is no longer available for dependants. Candidates from Myanmar need to directly apply to the institution. Download the application form or visit the New Zealand Aid Programme website: mfat.govt.nz

COMMONWEALTH SCHOLARSHIPS

These are offered to students from other parts of the Commonwealth under the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan. The scholarships aim to provide opportunities for students to pursue advanced courses or undertake research at a university in New Zealand. Candidates are required to be Commonwealth citizens or British protected persons and must have graduated from an institution in their own country.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AWARDS FOR PHD STUDENTS FROM THAILAND, VIETNAM OR INDONESIA

Massey University offers English Language education awards, covering tuition fees for up to six months per student, to selected students from Thailand, Vietnam and Indonesia who have been offered a place in a PhD research degree at Massey University.

MĀORI AT MASSEY

E NGĀ – ĀKONGA MĀORI

Piki mai, kake mai, nau mai, haere mai ki Te Kunenga ki Pūrehuroa. Our name – Te Kunenga ki Pūrehuroa – ‘from inception to infinity’ encompasses Massey University’s vision of life long learning. We’re proud many Māori students continue their educational journey with us from their first degree to PhD level. We have many opportunities for Māori postgraduate study including postgraduate diplomas and masters’ degrees in Māori Visual Arts, Te Reo Māori, Māori Education, Te Aho Paerewa; Post Graduate Diploma Māori Medium Teaching, Health Science and Māori Resource and Environmental Management. We also offer a wide range of courses with a Māori focus, such as Māori Value Systems in Science, Treaty of Waitangi and Māori Responses to Colonisation, and Māori Management. There are staff on every campus with specific responsibilities for promoting Māori student advancement and excellence. These include librarians, student advisers and student counsellors. Māori teaching staff are keen to ensure Māori students are well prepared to contribute to Māori advancement.

MASSEY UNIVERSITY MASTERATE SCHOLARSHIP FOR MĀORI STUDENTS

Massey offers Masterate Scholarships for Māori students to encourage postgraduate research at Massey University. Applicants must be enrolled or eligible to enrol full-time in a 120-credit research programme towards a master’s degree. We also offer Te Pūtahi-Pūrehuroa Postgraduate Scholarships to support academic excellence at postgraduate level.

MĀORI STUDENT GROUPS AND MĀORI STUDY SPACES

On each campus there is a Māori student association or group that organises activities for Māori students. There are also Māori student study spaces on each campus. For more information on the groups, visit massey.ac.nz/studentassoc

MARAE

Te Kuratini Marae on the Wellington campus is being redeveloped into a state-of-the-art teaching, learning and meeting facility while Te Pūtahi-a-Toi provides the Māori heart of the Manawatū campus.

■ STACEY HAYWARD Postgraduate Diploma in Māori Resource Development, Graduated 2001, Senior Policy Analyst at the Department of Internal Affairs (DIA)

I have always been drawn to the environment and the importance of managing natural resources in a sustainable manner for future generations. I lived in Papua New Guinea and Solomon Islands as a young child. Living with those local communities I was fascinated with how other indigenous cultures lived in harmony with their natural environment. My family has also worked in the primary sector for generations, so it seemed logical that I wanted to have a career in the natural resource and environmental management sector. Massey University offered the right mix of tertiary education in natural resource management. It is also world renowned for its research and tertiary qualifications in agriculture, horticulture and forestry which was a big hook for me. I really enjoyed my study experience. I had plenty of support and found it an enriching and stimulating environment. One of the most positive outcomes of my study was learning more about my identity as Māori. Having spent a large portion of my young life overseas I missed that opportunity. The time I spent studying allowed me to explore and discover more about Māori culture and values. The qualifications I obtained at Massey were highly sought after by government departments and I believe they continue to be even more relevant for those wanting a career in central or local government. Working in policy is exciting; what we do shapes New Zealand and our communities for the future. My ambition has no ceiling. I want to go as far as I can in my career and make a positive difference in the work I do.

PASIFIKA AT MASSEY

Warm Pacific greetings to you all.

Welcome to Massey University, where success is the norm and achievement is celebrated.

We are committed to providing services that support Pasifika students whether you have chosen to study on-campus or by distance learning. To support our Pasifika students during their academic journey, Pasifika Advisers are able to give academic guidance to students, helping students to reach their academic goals. Our Pasifika staff are empathetic to student needs, as they understand the diverse backgrounds and values of Pasifika students.

Our students can access services, including student-based learning workshops, mentoring programmes, and developmental resources in Stream through the 'Pasifika Stream Community'.

To provide a welcoming environment, we have established on each campus a Pasifika common learning facility where students can discuss their study progress with Pasifika Learning Advisers. You can also network with like-minded students and attend academic preparation workshops within culturally sensitive surroundings.

We provide twice-yearly writing retreats for postgraduate students.

We have made a commitment to the Pasifika community through our Pasifika@Massey strategy – "Growing Pearls of Wisdom" – written by Pasifika people to benefit Pasifika peoples in New Zealand and throughout the region. The strategy aims to increase gains for Pasifika peoples through teaching, research and consultancy services, and to make a positive contribution to Pasifika communities and Pasifika nations by:

- > Strengthening the capability of Pasifika people to build Pasifika communities
- > Making tertiary study accessible to Pasifika learners through learning communities, and campuses located in Auckland, Palmerston North and Wellington
- > Providing supportive environments and Pasifika staff and students to mentor and encourage (internal and distance learning) students
- > Reinforcing ties with Pasifika nations, student and staff exchanges, joint research projects, mentoring and guardianship
- > Undertaking research using Pasifika research methodologies, and sharing the knowledge with Pasifika communities.

■ FA'ALOGO SIMAILE NIKO TOLUONO

Master of Business Administration.

My name is Fa'alogo Simaile Niko Toluono.

I migrated from Samoa at the age of 22.

I am currently the Country Manager for Snakk Media, a New Zealand publicly-listed smartscreen advertising company.

My career progression to date is a legacy of years of experience in developing strategic alliances and relationships at senior levels across a range of clients, suppliers, and various other stakeholders.

In addition, marketing and advertising, media and digital communications developed through operational, managerial and strategic roles and responsibilities across a multitude of industries.

The MBA was an opportunity to upskill whilst challenging myself. While I was very happy with my career achievements, I felt there was more to learn and gain, so I enrolled in Massey University's Executive MBA. The MBA was such an important pathway for me and my career. I was able to connect my vast experiences and MBA learning to improve Snakk Media's financial position. The lessons I learned from the MBA also led to the improvement of my property investment business, and the launch of my own app development and website business which allow me to work with organisations of various sizes.

I forged strong relationships with other MBA students which could be of benefit in the future. I also met a good friend on the MBA, Mosotele Seta Efaraimo, with whom I launched MEASINA, a smartscreen app that strives to preserve the Samoan language and culture, catering to diaspora Samoans. Our business broke-even three months after the launch – while we were still studying. The app is such a success that we see ongoing downloads from all over the world even including places such as Alaska, Japan, and Afghanistan. Our business also boasts retention rate in the 90% bracket.

The MBA gave me the competitive advantage to be appointed onto Board of Director roles which means being highly involved in making decisions that help future-proof organisations.

The MBA is for anyone who wants to get into business or to move up to a senior role. It allowed me to connect the dots, putting my previous skills to good use, and come up with business ideas that can be scaled and will be relevant for many years to come, whilst adding value to people's lives and communities.

I would not have been able to do well in this MBA without the support of my Pasifika Family at Massey. It was a huge advantage for me and I encourage all students to use the student support services available, as these offer guidance as you get into the rhythm and habit of being a student.

PAEARU WHAKAURU ADMISSION

Postgraduate programmes include honours and masters' degrees as well as postgraduate diplomas and certificates. Graduate programmes include graduate diplomas and certificates.

Students applying for admission to a doctoral programme should refer to the Graduate Research School web pages for admission procedures. See grs.massey.ac.nz for more information.

Recognised entrance qualifications for graduate and postgraduate programmes differ by programme and you should refer to the admission requirements for your programme of choice on the Programmes and Courses website at study.massey.ac.nz.

Generally, postgraduate programmes require students to hold one or more of the following:

- > A relevant Massey University degree with above-average achievement as measured by grade average
- > A relevant degree from another New Zealand tertiary institution with above-average achievement as measured by grade average
- > A relevant degree from a recognised tertiary institution offshore with above-average achievement as measured by grade average
- > Relevant practical, professional or scholarly experience equivalent to that of a graduate. Not all graduate and postgraduate qualifications permit entry on this basis.

Entrance to graduate and postgraduate study is usually programme and major-specific, and may have conditions attached. Applications require at least 15 working days to process. You should apply well before the start of the semester in which you intend to study.

Verified transcripts from all of your previous tertiary study are essential unless you completed your previous degree at Massey University.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

All students studying at Massey University are expected to be able to write grammatically correct English, read English actively and with understanding, listen to and discern key points in spoken English and speak English freely and clearly. Procedures also exist for those students who wish to submit written work or examinations in Māori.

All international students whose first language is not English will be required to provide satisfactory evidence of their English language proficiency in the form of an academic IELTS or TOEFL score. More information is available on the International students web pages:

international.massey.ac.nz

■ PAWEENA CHATSUNGNOEN PhD student in Education (2015)

Studying my PhD in New Zealand has been the best experience, and I have been blessed with the opportunity to live and study here with my family over the past five years. The Massey Institute of Education has a strong reputation among New Zealand universities so it is my pride to study here.

I first completed an English language course at Massey followed by a short course in Qualitative and Quantitative Research in Education. These short courses gave me a strong foundation to begin my PhD project.

The best thing about Massey is the strong team of International Student Support. I am very appreciative of the support and guidance I received from them, and they would kindly help us anytime that we want. Also, my supervisors looked after me very well. They provided lots of valuable suggestions for my study and encourage me to continue my writing. They also gave me spiritual support during my PhD journey, allowing me to maintain a balanced life between my study and family.

I plan to move back to Thailand with my family and be an assistant professor at Maejo University teaching English language to undergraduate science students. I hope to develop a Masters programme in TESOL which will hopefully enter a MOU with Massey. My vision is to use my knowledge and insight from my studies to develop students in my country.

■ TRISH MATSON

Trish is the National Postgraduate and Distance Adviser across all colleges. Trish graduated from Massey University back in 2011 with an MBA. She loved the University so much that when the position for Postgraduate Adviser was advertised she leapt at the chance. Today she focuses on postgraduate growth across all campuses and colleges. Trish comes to Massey from a solid 20 years in the information technology industry, and is now applying her skills to the education sector.

■ FAYE ALAILIMA

Talofa lava and warm Pacific greetings. My name is Faye and I'm the National Postgraduate and Distance Adviser for Pasifika! Firstly, congratulations on taking this first step towards postgraduate studies. If you already have a career in mind – or if you're unsure – come and see me. I'll be happy to work alongside you as we explore your options and possibilities in the world of postgraduate studies. As a Pacific person of Samoan descent, I am familiar with the pressures of studies, especially when balancing family life and work commitments. Come in and see me and we'll take it from there, coffee or your choice of hot drink is on me.

■ KEMP REWETI

Kemp is based in Manawatū and is the National Postgraduate and Distance Adviser for Māori. Kemp studied a Bachelor of Arts and went on to do his Master of Arts. Kemp has been part of the Recruitment and Development team for five years, specialising in Māori recruitment.

ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

We have a wealth of academic support resources available online for all Massey University students. Materials have been developed by experts and are designed to enhance your academic skills. You can learn about useful strategies to help you with your time management, note taking and memory skills.

ONLINE WRITING AND LEARNING LINK (OWLL)

OWLL contains detailed information, interactive content, and online workshops on essay and report writing, referencing, study techniques, computer skills, and more. See owll.massey.ac.nz

STREAM

Simply log in to Stream and locate the course "Academic Writing and Learning Support". You will find two useful services here:

ACADEMIC Q AND A

You can ask questions in this forum for academic issues relating to study and assignment writing skills.

PRE-READING SERVICE

This service is available to all distance students and first-year students studying on-campus. Postgraduate students studying taught courses via distance can submit a draft assignment and a Writing Consultant will look it over and provide feedback on structure and focus, style and presentation, sources and referencing.

PRINTED RESOURCES

WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

Throughout the year, each Centre for Teaching and Learning holds workshops and seminars providing useful strategies on topics such as essay writing, referencing and advanced writing. See the workshop and seminars web page for information on topics, dates, and venues. If you missed a session, some workshops are viewable through the OWLL.

TOHU KAIRANGI MASSEY DOCTORATES

The doctoral degree is the highest degree awarded at Massey. The degree constitutes a significant piece of research in the form of a thesis or exegesis of up to 100,000 words or a series of publications that make a substantive and original contribution to knowledge. At Massey the research must be defended before a panel of experts and takes three to four years maximum to complete for a full-time student. The professional doctorates also include course work and in some cases internships/practicums.

INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNISED

Massey University is consistently ranked in the top 3% of universities worldwide. We are a global university. Our PhD students come from more than 25 different countries, and we have agreements with more than 200 institutions worldwide.

SUPPORT FOR DOCTORAL STUDENTS

We create an excellent experience and provide great support to Massey's doctoral students. Our campuses are innovative, creative and host some of the world's leading research centres.

PROFESSIONAL DOCTORATES

Massey offers two 'professional' doctorates which have more specific requirements than the general PhD programme:

- > Doctor of Clinical Psychology
- > Doctor of Social Work

EXPERTISE ACROSS MANY DISCIPLINES

Massey offers internationally-recognised research-led qualifications, hugely relevant in today's world, and can offer PhD-level supervision in the following fields.

ACCOUNTANCY

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN ACCOUNTANCY

Massey's School of Accountancy has accreditation from national and international professional institutions including AACSB, the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants and the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (UK). Our accountancy and finance programme ranks in the top 150 universities in the world by QS rankings. Our lecturers are actively researching, bringing the most relevant developments in accounting theory and practice to your study.

This qualification will give you the ability to proceed to further in-depth research, such as a master's degree. The Postgraduate Diploma in Accountancy (PGDipAcc) is an advanced programme of professional education in specialist accounting topics. You need an undergraduate accountancy qualification to enter study towards this qualification. NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANCY AND FINANCE

Massey's Master of Professional Accountancy and Finance (MPAF) will give you a comprehensive grounding in accountancy and finance, critical for success in today's business environment. The MPAF shows a commitment to gaining the business capabilities that are sought after by potential employers. It will build on your previous study and/or practical work experience to help you develop an excellent understanding of accountancy and finance principles and practical applications.

The MPAF is the only master's qualification in New Zealand endorsed by the CFA (Chartered Financial Analysts). Massey University is one of only 130 partner universities around the world to have a partnership agreement with the CFA. It is also accredited by CA ANZ, CPA Australia, and ACCA. NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

AGRICOMMERCE

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN AGRICOMMERCE

A postgraduate diploma is the stepping-stone to a research-based degree such as a master's degree. This qualification will help you join this rapidly-growing industry at a senior level. Already worth close to $37 billion in export earnings a year, international demand for New Zealand's agricultural produce and services is predicted to continue to grow rapidly. You can complete this programme in one year of full-time study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF AGRICOMMERCE

Massey's Master of AgriCommerce is an internationally-recognised qualification. You will gain the research and professional skills required across the value chain from farm production to food marketing. You can choose a research or professional practice pathway. The professional practice pathway is most relevant if you wish to continue working while studying. It offers an industry-related research project. This qualification can be completed in 1.5 years or five years part-time. You will learn how to take advantage of agribusiness opportunities and conduct an investigation of these, taking into account relevant cultural, ethical, and regulatory issues. You can choose a research project relevant to your own career and industry.

The research pathway is appropriate if you wish to go into a research or academic career, or have come from undergraduate study and wish to continue your learning at a more in-depth level. This pathway allows you to complete an in-depth thesis on a topic of your choice. Our close links with industry will help you identify research that specifically addresses organisational problems.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

AGRICULTURE

MASTER OF AGRICULTURE

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Agriculture; Equine; Horticulture; Life Cycle Management; No Endorsement.

If you are passionate about the primary industries, Massey's new Master of Agriculture (MAgr) will help you progress your career. Your study will cover a wide range of topics including related environmental, consumer and policy issues in areas like agribusiness, extension and consultancy, animal science, management of primary systems, life cycle management, soil science, agricultural plants, plant health, and equine.

The MAgr can be endorsed in agriculture; horticulture; equine; or life cycle management. You can complete it in only three full-time semesters. If you are working while you study, we offer the flexibility to complete over a longer period of time.

ANALYTICS

MASTER OF ANALYTICS

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Business; Health; Public Policy.

At Massey we ensure that your learning is firmly based in a real-world business context. We believe that in order to help you identify the most appropriate technique and data to address a problem, you need to understand the real challenges and context which businesses face. The Master of Analytics will help you understand all these things, as well as give you training in communicating your findings in a compelling way to a business audience.

The skills you will learn meet the growing demand for graduates capable of harvesting, processing, analysing and presenting data in ways that encourage informed and effective organisational decision making. You will learn how to extract useful information from big data, while maintaining data security and privacy. This will open up an increasing number of roles for people who can combine business skills with data analysis, and who have excellent communication skills

This qualification is a 180-credit programme, so can be completed in 12 months of full-time study, or over a longer period of part-time study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

ARTS

BACHELOR OF ARTS WITH HONOURS

MAJORS AVAILABLE: Defence Studies; Economics; Education; English; Geography; History; Māori Studies; Media Studies; Philosophy; Politics; Psychology; Social Anthropology; Social Policy; Sociology; Spanish. With a BA(Hons) you will take advanced courses and research in the subject you studied for your BA or GradCert/GradDipArts.

An honours degree is a highly regarded qualification, showing your in-depth understanding of the arts and their application to the real world. You'll take 120 credits of 700-level courses, selected from a single subject area, including at least a 30 credit research report. After your honours programme you could go on to a Master of Arts (120 credits).

NOTE: Not suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ARTS

The Postgraduate Certificate in Arts is equivalent to the first half of the Postgraduate Diploma in Arts. It's a great place to start if you're considering postgraduate study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN ARTS

ENDORSEMENTS INCLUDE: Defence and Security Studies; Economics; Education; English; Geographic Information Systems; Geography; History; Māori Studies; Media Studies; Philosophy; Politics; Psychology; Social Anthropology; Social Policy; Sociology.

Admission to the PGDipArts is from a Bachelor of Arts (BA) with a major in the intended area of study; OR from a BA with a minor in the intended area of study followed by a Graduate Certificate in Arts endorsed in the intended area of postgraduate study; OR from any bachelor's degree followed by a Graduate Diploma in Arts endorsed in the intended area of study.

Advancing your study at postgraduate level will enhance your communication, critical thinking and problem-solving skills so you can take on the opportunities the future holds and thrive as a leader in your field. When you have completed your diploma you may have the opportunity to study for a master's degree.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF ARTS

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Defence and Security Studies; Economics; Education; English; Geography; History; Māori Studies; Media Studies; Museum Studies; Philosophy; Politics; Psychology; Social Anthropology; Social Policy; Sociology; Spanish.

Studying arts is transformative. Employers, industries and the labour market of the future need people who can thrive in an ever-changing global marketplace, and be able to effectively challenge and critique new ideas. The arts are your passport to all the world's wonderful places. Studying at a higher level will open doors to new cultures, communities and opportunities, driving your ability to champion creative and innovative solutions for complex global issues. You will have the opportunity to pursue advanced study in a humanities or social sciences subject of your choice through a research report or a thesis.

The Master of Arts (MA) is 180 credits. This means you can complete an MA in three semesters of full-time study. If you study part-time, an MA will normally take three years to complete. In some disciplines – geography, social anthropology, sociology and politics – you can complete in 12 months of full-time study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

AVIATION

Massey University is the only place in New Zealand where you can turn your passion for aviation into a tertiary qualification. We are an internationally-recognised pilot training facility, but we also give you a broad knowledge of the global aviation industry. You will learn communication, management and administrative skills that will broaden the range of careers open to you in the aviation industry.

MASTER OF AVIATION

Aviation industry personnel – like those in many other industries – face increasing 'academic inflation'. Senior aviation managers are required to demonstrate not only technical knowledge and expertise, but also advanced aviation qualifications and skills. This programme is partly taught and also includes a professional research project.

A Master of Aviation (MAv) will give you the skills to work to a high level of academic achievement, work to deadlines under pressure, and communicate your work effectively. These are essential skills to work at a senior level in the aviation industry, or to progress to a higher level of study such as a PhD. A master's degree is a rigorous and challenging academic programme, but you will be rewarded with an in-depth knowledge of aviation that will significantly enhance your career prospects in the internationally-competitive aviation sector. The MAv is now a 180-credit master's qualification, and can be achieved in three semesters (1.5 years). It offers students two pathways.

Auckland
Manawatu
Wellington
Distance

The Research Pathway includes 60 credits of taught courses including a compulsory Research Methods course. Part Two will incorporate a minimum of 60 credits of research.

The Professional Pathway is a more practice-based qualification, which will reflect an applicant's industry experience. This option includes two compulsory aviation management courses, elective aviation courses and culminates in a 60-credit 'Professional Practice in Aviation' course. Students who are already aviation professionals may wish to draw on their current aviation role for the purpose of a case study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa. This programme is available to international students wishing to study part-time by distance while they continue working, as well as full-time on-campus in New Zealand.

BUSINESS

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN BUSINESS

Would you like an introduction to postgraduate study? Do you need prerequisite postgraduate courses for another programme?

If you are a graduate wanting to study selected courses in business, the Postgraduate Certificate in Business (PGCertBus) may be suitable for you. You may want an introduction to postgraduate study in the Massey Business School, or you may be looking to study specific courses for your own professional development. Perhaps you need to gain prerequisite postgraduate courses for another programme. For all of these options the PGCertBus will allow you the flexibility to study in the areas that you choose.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN BUSINESS

The Postgraduate Diploma in Business (PGDipBus) provides an advanced education in specialist business areas. It consists of taught courses. It is suited to those who have a degree (not necessarily in business) and would like to study business at a postgraduate level. The PGDipBus can be completed in one year of full-time study, or up to four years of part-time study.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF BUSINESS STUDIES

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Accountancy; Banking; Communication; Economics; Finance; Human Resource Management; Management; Marketing.

Massey's Master of Business Studies (MBS) combines study of advanced theory with research in a specialised field of business to give you a career advantage. This master's degree offers the same rigorous and prestigious programme as other masters' degrees, yet can be completed in only three semesters (180 credits), or one and half years. It can also be completed as a 120-credit programme for students who have already studied the same subject at postgraduate level.

To succeed at a senior level in business, or academia, you must be able to communicate your work and findings effectively. The MBS will develop your oral and written communication skills to the level expected of senior business leaders. You will learn the processes and disciplines involved in high-level in-depth research and how to apply them to business. As part of your study you will complete and present a comprehensive written report on an independent research topic.

Massey's programmes are research-led. The MBS not only draws on the latest business research but also has a focus on real-world learning. We utilise our relationships with industry and help you draw on experience you may have to give your learning context and relevance to the real world. The MBS offers a flexible study plan comprising of subject specialisation courses and research-focused courses.

MASTER OF MANAGEMENT

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Accountancy; Banking and Finance; Communication Management; Enterprise Development; Financial Economics; Health Service Management; Human Resource Management; International Business; Management; Marketing.

Massey's Master of Management (MMgt) will build on your communication skills to give you an international perspective on management and business at a senior level. You will learn from our business experts – Massey University has the largest and one of the most highly respected management schools in New Zealand. This is an internationally-recognised qualification. You can choose from a broad range of specialisations to suit your interests, including HR, communication, enterprise development and more.

You can complete this qualification in 1.5 years of full-time study. If you study part-time the qualification takes between 2.5 and five years.

Management involves both being able to work independently and making management decisions, but also being able to work with and direct teams. Those people could be within your organisation, or external clients and stakeholders. The MMgt programme works with you to help develop these skills as well as specialist business capability in your endorsement of choice. The MMgt is a rigorous programme, where students are expected to achieve at a high level. This is reflected in the quality of our graduates, and contributes to the reputation of the qualification.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Massey MBA is a rigorous, challenging professional development qualification taught in an Executive MBA style. It's the longest continuously-running MBA programme in New Zealand (running since 1972) and has accumulated an extensive and illustrious network.

As a busy executive, we know you have limited time. We teach at multiple locations around New Zealand. We are the only MBA provider with convenient weekend teaching. This 'weekend MBA' gives you flexibility, allowing you to structure learning around your life, both professional and personal. The classes are specifically and solely for MBA students, meaning learning is focused and relevant. This allows you to develop networks with peers in your small group, who have common learning and career objectives. Massey's MBA provides a broad foundation in applying the various business functions – accounting, finance, management, and marketing – to develop business strategies. Your teachers are chosen for their ability to span the academic-practitioner divide. The latest research and business theory is shared with you through the international and New Zealand senior management experience of our lecturers.

A key part of the MBA is developing a deeper understanding of leadership and its function in business. In parallel with the academic programme, every part of your study will help you develop the skills necessary for enhancing business performance through effective management of people – the only real sustainable source of competitive advantage. A unique highlight of the Massey MBA is an international study tour. It is an opportunity for you to live and study together with your group, in an environment where you are away from the routines and pressures of work and home. The group visits large and small companies, focusing on learning from their strategic management and how companies overcame their challenges, both locally and globally.

COMMUNICATION

BACHELOR OF COMMUNICATION WITH HONOURS

An honours degree is a challenging year of study. It will give you new insights and take your knowledge of communication theory and practice to a new level. The Bachelor of Communication with Honours (BC(Hons)) is for you if you already have an undergraduate qualification in communication and seek more in-depth knowledge and skills. It's a prestigious qualification which shows your in-depth understanding of communication. You may wish to use this qualification as a stepping-stone to a PhD (if eligible) or as extra leverage for a higher career level.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN COMMUNICATION

Massey's Postgraduate Diploma in Communication (PGDipC) follows similar study and learning processes to the Master of Communication, but without a research thesis component. This qualification will be useful if you are in a communications role and wish to both broaden your skills or if you'd like to expand your understanding of different approaches to communication from business or humanities traditions.

MASTER OF COMMUNICATION

No matter what industry you work in, this multi-disciplinary degree will give you in-depth understanding of communication principles and skills. Massey's Master of Communication (MC) will deepen your understanding of communication practice. This is a unique qualification in New Zealand. The research project in this master's degree lets you focus on a real-world communication challenge and combine different communication research approaches to develop a novel solution. Whether you draw on research approaches from public relations, expressive arts, communication management, marketing, linguistics, media studies or journalism studies, or create a bespoke research approach that includes supervision from a related discipline such as Māori studies, international relations or evaluation studies, your learning will focus on practical, relevant outcomes for your career.

The first segment of the programme covers the history and theory of communication across different scholarly traditions and industries. In the second part you choose a personalised experience from both 'heartland' courses relevant to your discipline – for instance advanced

- ✓ Programme available and all majors/subjects available
- Some majors/subjects available

journalism issues, discourse analysis, media practice, advanced public relations or advanced marketing – and ‘sister disciplines’ such as quality management.

In the third segment you work on a research project of your choice that is relevant to your industry and discipline.

The MC is 180 credits. This means that you can now complete this qualification in three semesters of full-time study. We offer research supervision in the summer semester if you want to really fast-track your completion. If you study part-time the qualification usually takes between 2.5 and five years.

CONSTRUCTION

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN CONSTRUCTION (BLOCK MODE) ✓

ENDORSEMENTS INCLUDE: Building Technology; Construction Law; Construction Project Management; Facilities Management; Quantity Surveying.

If you complete the programme at a satisfactory level you may be able to proceed to the Master of Construction. If so, credits you have gained through this qualification may be credited to the master’s degree. Endorsements include Building Technology, Construction Law+, Construction Project Management+, Facilities Management, and Quantity Surveying+.

+NOTE: Endorsements available for international students studying in NZ.

MASTER OF CONSTRUCTION ✓

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Building Technology; Construction Law; Construction Project Management; Facilities Management; Quantity Surveying. Become a world-leading construction specialist, with the Master of Construction. It is the only degree in New Zealand focused on construction. Massey’s Master of Construction (MConstr) focuses on building your in-depth knowledge of specific aspects of construction. You will gain from Massey’s expertise in related areas such as engineering and business, but always with a construction view. This master’s degree builds on Massey’s Bachelor of Construction – the only one offered in New Zealand.

You may be working in the construction industry and want to know more about specific aspects. Or you may work in another area (like law) and wish to learn more about related construction specialities (construction law). This degree will give you specific, tailored, focused learning to help you gain in-depth knowledge in aspects of construction.

You will conduct a research project of 45 credits or more as part of your study. We encourage you to focus this research on an industry relevant to your own career, giving you direct and immediate benefits. If you have come straight from undergraduate study you can take advantage of our extensive industry relationships to also develop a relevant project that will enhance your career prospects.

The themes of sustainability and productivity run through all our construction courses. We have sustainability specialists who ensure that these increasingly-important views of construction are always considered through study and projects. This is a 120-credit degree, meaning you can complete in only one year full-time.

Endorsements include Building Technology, Construction Law*, Construction Project Management*, Facilities Management, and Quantity Surveying*.

*NOTE: Endorsements available for international students studying in NZ.

COUNSELLING

MASTER OF COUNSELLING STUDIES (BLOCK MODE) ○ ✓

Massey’s Master of Counselling Studies is an advanced professional training programme. You’ll develop and apply research-informed knowledge and skills relevant to effective professional counselling practice. You’ll also advance your ability to undertake, analyse and use research relevant to your practice and profession. ## DAIRY SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

MASTER OF DAIRY SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY ✓

Admission to the Master of Dairy Science and Technology requires you have been awarded or qualified for either a Bachelor of Engineering with Honours, Bachelor of Science with Honours, a Bachelor of Food Technology with Honours, or equivalent, and have approved employment in the New Zealand dairy industry to facilitate the requirements of courses 141.750 Dairy Products Research Projects and 141.848 Dairy Science and Technology Research Project.

DESIGN

BACHELOR OF DESIGN WITH HONOURS ✓

MAJORS INCLUDE: Fashion Design; Industrial Design; Photography; Spatial Design; Textile Design; Visual Communication Design.

The first year explores design practice and its core concepts, methods and applications through hands-on projects. You’ll be introduced to a range of disciplines and the generic principles of design through investigation, concept development and design experimentation. In the following years you’ll have the opportunity to mix, discuss and collaborate with other students across art, design, music and digital media production. You can tailor your expertise through a range of electives that support your selected major and help define your graduate pathway. In your fourth year you can choose whether to follow the research-based BDes (Hons) or project-based BDes programme: whichever pathway you choose you will push the boundaries of design innovation, consolidate your skills and extend the quality of your final project. Massey’s College of Creative Arts is ranked number one for design concept in Asia Pacific by international Red Dot Awards, and the only Australasian university to be awarded substantial equivalency by the prestigious US National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN DESIGN ✓

The Postgraduate Diploma in Design (PGDipDes) provides an opportunity for students across the design spectrum to up-skill in creative practice, technologies and theory. When achieved at an appropriate level, it gives students access to the Master of Design or the transdisciplinary MFA for designers and artists. The PGDipDes caters for students in many design disciplines, including fashion design, industrial design, photography, spatial design, textile design and visual communication design.

Note: Applications close on 15 November of the preceding year.

MASTER OF DESIGN

The Master of Design (MDes) is an advanced research qualification in design. There is a 120-credit thesis-only option if you already have a four-year honours degree, and a 180-credit option if you have a three-year bachelor's degree. The 180-credit MDes starts with 60 credits of design courses, then the 120-credit thesis. Many projects have direct application to industry. You will complete a supervised programme of focused design research taking a challenging real-world design problem through to a well-resolved solution, such as a product prototype. The MDes gives you a lot of freedom. You have regular meetings with your supervisors, and critique sessions with your fellow MDes students, but you are in control of structuring your own time. You generally have two supervisors who are experienced designers in fields related to your research. It is their job to challenge you to take the project as far as you can. For your thesis, you have 12 months to focus on a single design research project, so you get to 'master' your project brief and deliver a well researched and resolved solution. To make optimum use of this time frame it works best when you enter the year with a clear project brief and develop strong relationships with your external 'client' from early on. External connections are really important in MDes projects. We expect you to keep in regular contact with your external partners or community of interest. Some projects even require you to be located in a business or production company for long periods. You have access to studio space alongside other design and art postgraduate students so there's a real sense of community, and of course all of our state-of-the-art facilities are available to you. MDes students can start their study in late February, mid-June or mid-September, depending on their own circumstances and arrangements with their external clients. The research topic needs to be carefully defined, and have strong industry links. Intending applicants should discuss their potential topic with the Postgraduate Coordinator – Design before development of their written outline. For more information and guidelines on preparing your proposal, contact: creative.postgrad@massey.ac.nz. Application deadlines are: mid-November (February start); mid-May (June start); mid-August (September start). In 2018, the 180-credit MDes starts in September only. NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MFA IN DESIGN AND MFA IN FINE ART

The design/art MFA is the College of Creative Arts' premier postgraduate qualification for practising designers and artists. The MFA emphasises the production of original creative work that is research-driven, critically engaged, expertly realised and highly innovative. Massey offers two ways to do the MFA:

- > Full-time: on campus in Wellington, including postgraduate studio space on site. This takes two years.
- > Low residency: come to Wellington for four intensive one-week blocks per year, with mentoring and supervision in your creative practice by distance. This will take three to four years. The blocks coincide with school holidays. The MFA starts with the "Grad Camp" intensive block in the last week of January. Application deadline for all MFA candidates: November 15 (January start). Late applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis. For more information contact: creative.postgrad@massey.ac.nz or see creative.massey.ac.nz

See the MFA information on page 23 for more details.

EDUCATION

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN EDUCATION

If you already have a bachelor's degree and some professional experience in an educator role, but have a particular subject you'd like to explore in more depth, and want to keep up to date with the latest developments in education theory and practice, this is where you can start a more substantial study programme. You'll learn to apply theory and research, and better understand the complex dimensions of current educational issues, practices and/or policies. You'll

You can also complete your Master of Education (MEd) unendorsed by selecting from courses from across the endorsements and other elective papers. The MEd will update your professional knowledge and qualifications, while exploring new developments and changes in education. You'll learn to critically apply knowledge, theory and research, and better understand the complex dimensions of a range of current educational issues, practices and/or policies. The MEd will teach you to plan and carry out research that demonstrates a high level of skill in critical analysis, synthesis and critical evaluation of teaching and learning. Then you can apply the skills you've learned to new situations.

EDUCATIONAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN EDUCATIONAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

* Requires attendance at block courses

The Postgraduate Certificate in Educational and Developmental Psychology is a bridging qualification leading to professional training in Educational and Developmental Psychology. This qualification is open to students who have been awarded a Master's degree in Education, Psychology, Counselling, Social Work, Speech and Language Therapy, or a related relevant discipline. The qualification will also be of significant value to students with a Master's degree in Educational Psychology (or equivalent) from other universities. This qualification provides an introduction to professional-level frameworks for practice as an Educational and Developmental Psychologist. The focus is on development of assessment skills and understanding of professional issues as they relate to professional practice in educational and developmental psychology.

NOTE: Successful completion of the Postgraduate Certificate in Educational and Developmental Psychology will not give automatic entry into the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational and Developmental Psychology. Students are required to go through the selection process for the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational and Developmental Psychology and be offered a place.

MASTER OF EDUCATIONAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY ✓✓✓

The Master of Educational and Developmental Psychology builds the capacity of educators in formal, non-formal and informal learning contexts to be inclusive, adaptable and meet the needs of learners. This professional practice qualification encourages a greater depth of understanding about the factors that support or hinder learning in bicultural and multicultural contexts at both individual and system levels.

Whether you want to develop your current knowledge and skills as a teacher, educational leader or educational psychologist, steer into educational and developmental psychology research as part of a PhD, or follow the professional career pathway into the Postgraduate Diploma in Educational and Developmental Psychology Internship, the Master of Educational and Developmental Psychology creates multiple pathways for your future aspirations. It sets you up to work with and support learners to ensure equity in education and to create systems that enable learning. Our programme fosters bicultural and multicultural inclusive education assessment and intervention, collaborative practice with practitioners in education and whānau, and differentiation of teaching for individual learning needs. These principal areas will enable you to pursue the career to enjoy your own and others' learning.

MASTER OF FINANCE (BLOCK MODE)

Massey's Master of Finance (MFin) combines the study of advanced theory with research in a specialised finance area to give you a career advantage. It is available to students who have completed an undergraduate qualification majoring in finance.

It offers the same rigorous and prestigious programme as other masters' degrees, yet can be completed in only three semesters (180 credits), or one and half years. It may be completed as a 120-credit qualification by those who already have a postgraduate finance qualification. If you wish to complete a more in-depth master's research project you may extend your degree out to 240 credits.

This degree is offered in block mode at the Wellington campus, which means that rather than attending regular lectures, you will attend one or more block periods.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

FINE ARTS

MFA IN FINE ARTS

The design/art MFA is the College of Creative Arts' premier postgraduate qualification for practising designers and artists. The MFA emphasises the production of original creative work that is research-driven, critically engaged, expertly realised and highly innovative.

Massey offers two ways to do the MFA:

- > Full-time: on campus in Wellington, including postgraduate studio space on site. This takes two years.
- > Low residency: come to Wellington for four intensive one-week blocks per year, with mentoring and supervision in your creative practice by distance. This will take three to four years. The blocks coincide with school holidays.

The MFA starts with the "Grad Camp" intensive block in the last week of January. Application deadline for all MFA candidates: November 15 (January start). Late applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

For more information contact: creative.postgrad@massey.ac.nz or see creative.massey.ac.nz

An MFA from the College of Creative Arts offers:

- > Fresh Pacific perspectives within a globally-connected programme
- > The only MFA outside North America to follow the internationally-recognised US model
- > Study in Wellington, the coolest little capital in the world
- > Unique creative retreats to regional New Zealand
- > Self-directed research where transdisciplinary conversations and highly focused subject-specific investigations are open to you
- > Easy access to art and design researchers on staff for supervision and mentoring
- > A warm, friendly, high-achieving peer learning community

FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY

MASTER OF FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY

Enhance your career in the food industry with advanced skills in Food Safety and Quality. With a Master of Food Safety and Quality, you will play a key role in managing food safety and quality in any food manufacturing company. Food safety and quality are essential to the success of all food manufacturing companies and critical for New Zealand's economic success.

Food companies have a growing need for expertise in food safety and quality. If they do not have this expertise themselves, consultants with the relevant qualifications provide them with services. You have the opportunity to start your own consultancy business or to work for the government department overseeing food safety in your country. In New Zealand, the government department is the Ministry for Primary Industries.

Massey University has been producing highly-skilled graduates for the New Zealand and international food industries for more than 50 years, and hosts the New Zealand Food Safety Centre with access to the latest expertise in food safety.

FOOD TECHNOLOGY

MASTER OF FOOD TECHNOLOGY

With a Master of Food Technology (MFoodTech), you can become a research and development champion in the food industry. The world's economies are looking for new ways to add value to raw produce and a MFoodTech degree can give you the skills to do this. All this adds up to excellent salaries and an increasing demand for people with the research and technical skills you will learn during this qualification.

You'll gain the research and technical skills and then you can apply your knowledge in the commercial world. Your lecturers are actively researching and are experts in their area of research, with many having worked in the New Zealand and international food industries.

You'll learn the practical skills needed to undertake independent research in the food industry. You will then undertake your own large independent research project that focuses on real food industry problems and solutions. At Massey you'll have access to real equipment to do research that's applied and practical to the food industry including: Pilot plant equipment, labs equipped to analyse and characterise food texture, rheology, physical properties, chemical composition and microbial flora; a facility to gather consumer data for the sensory properties of food, a post-harvest lab to study the packaging, storage and preservation of fruits and vegetables. Massey has research expertise in meat and fish technology, dairy technology, fruit and vegetables, carbohydrates, food additives and ingredients.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

INDUSTRIAL/ORGANISATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN INDUSTRIAL/ORGANISATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

The Postgraduate Diploma in Industrial/Organisational Psychology (PGDipIOPsych) is an internship programme which provides a professional qualification for I/O psychologists. You'll do a supervised practicum and gain extensive knowledge of professional issues in the practice of I/O psychology. On graduating, you can apply for registration as a psychologist in New Zealand with the New Zealand Psychologists Board under the Health Practitioners' Competence Assurance (HPCA) Act. Industrial/organisational psychology (or work psychology) is a vibrant and dynamic field of psychological practice with good job opportunities worldwide. This programme considers both business and community issues. I/O psychologists can serve in a variety of roles and organisations, including not-for-profits, generating financial and/or social capital. As social critics, many work psychologists serve the interests of staff as much as those of employers.

NOTE: Applications must be with the School of Psychology no later than 1 October of the preceding year. No late applications will be accepted.

NOTE: Not suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

INFORMATION SCIENCES

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN INFORMATION SCIENCES

ENDORSEMENTS INCLUDE: Computer Science; Information Technology; Software Engineering.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Information Sciences (PGDiplnSc) is a taught programme, able to be completed in one year full-time.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

IMPORTANT: International students must select 'no endorsement'. An endorsement can be added after one semester if the student fulfils the requirement for an endorsement.

MASTER OF INFORMATION SCIENCES

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: Computer Science; Information Technology; Software Engineering.

In the Master of Information Sciences (MInfSc) you will learn how to apply problem-solving and analytical thinking skills to the analysis of, and solutions to, general software-based problems within the broader ICT community. You will gain skills in evaluating policies and processes used in the design, construction, testing and maintenance of advanced technological solutions in order to make informed strategic decisions. This is a taught programme, with a major component an in-depth professional project.

If you study full-time you can complete the MInfSc in three semesters (one and half years). The MInfSc gives you the option to focus and major in computer science (including topics such as artificial intelligence and graphics) or information technology (including topics such as mobile systems and security). Or you have the freedom to graduate without a major and mix and match the topics that interest you the most. Topics you can study include:

- > Artificial intelligence, computer graphics, computer vision, parallel and distributed computing, operating systems, rapid application development, data science and user interface design.

A professional practice project is an important part of this master's degree. You may have the opportunity to be involved in real projects for real companies on real issues that they wish to solve. This experience can lead directly to roles and add substantial value to your résumé when you are seeking employment.

You can also complete a MInfSc (by thesis only). This is a 120-credit research qualification for those who have completed the BlnfSc(Hons) or PGDiplnSc.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

IMPORTANT: International students must select 'no major'. A major can be added after one semester if the student fulfils the requirement for a major.

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Graduates of the Postgraduate Certificate in International Development will be able to apply their knowledge and skills to developing policy and strategies and to managing and evaluating international development programmes. They will evaluate contemporary international development theories, policies and approaches and draw out relevant implications from research.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

As a Postgraduate Diploma in International Development student you will improve your understanding of how global forces shape the world, and hone the skills you need to help overcome poverty and enhance human wellbeing. You'll extend your abilities to analyse international development issues, collect relevant data, and write persuasively about development issues. Graduates will be able to apply their knowledge and skills to developing policy and strategies and to managing and evaluating international development programmes. Your PGDiplntDev is also a pathway to advanced research at master's degree level.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The Master of International Development (MIntDev) is a 180-credit course that can follow on immediately from your bachelor's degree. You will gain an advanced understanding of how global economic, social, political and environmental forces affect people and shape different parts of the world. These insights will allow you to recognise where inequalities lie and identify strategies to help overcome poverty and enhance human wellbeing. Graduates will be able to apply their knowledge and skills to developing policy and strategies and to managing and evaluating international development programmes.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

The Postgraduate Certificate in International Security (PGCertIntlSy) is, in effect, the first half of the Postgraduate Diploma in International Security. Candidates who are admitted to the PGCertIntlSy may have the opportunity of proceeding to the Postgraduate Diploma in International Security upon achievement in the Postgraduate Certificate. If you proceed to the Postgraduate Diploma, the Postgraduate Certificate will not be awarded.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

The Postgraduate Diploma in International Security is a multidisciplinary programme drawing on international relations, strategic studies, political science, religion, area studies, political and human geography, and military history. Security management is an increasingly important dimension of government and public policy, with direct benefit to economic security and social wellbeing. You'll also benefit from our close relationships with partner agencies in the security sector. Our committed and supportive staff will encourage you to pursue your intellectual and professional interests and develop your own area of specialisation.

JOURNALISM

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN JOURNALISM

The Massey journalism programme enjoys a close working relationship with the country's leading newspapers, news websites, radio and television stations. Wellington's Dominion Post newspaper, for instance, has hired many of our graduates, hosts our students on work experience and funds prizes for our top students.

Massey's lecturers are experienced journalists, teachers and researchers. The standard journalism textbook used at all New Zealand journalism schools is produced by Massey staff. All of Massey's journalism staff contributed to the book.

The Massey University course is the only journalism school in New Zealand or Australia accredited by leading US agency ACEJMC. This confirms that Massey offers top-rated, internationally-recognised and endorsed journalism qualifications. Indeed, journalism educators in the US recently judged our course's intensive module on internet reporting the best teaching idea 'by far', beating out more than 50 mostly US-based courses.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Journalism is the qualification you need to become a journalist. It is a one-year full-time course, blending the theory with practical, relevant skills. It is based on leading overseas journalism qualifications and will build a firm foundation for your exciting career in print and web journalism, broadcasting and other media-related areas. Effectively all the graduates of the programme obtain jobs.

Work experience is a key component of the qualification, giving you relevant experience sought after by employers. In the second half of the year, you will spend time working at a media organisation, which can include newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations, or web-based news organisations. You will then do a full-time work placement at a media organisation.

This could be anywhere in the country, including major daily newspapers, magazines, internet news organisations, radio and television stations.

At Massey University, you will learn the vital industry skills you need to be a successful journalist in our modern society. The focus of the course is on news reporting. This is the basic skill that all journalism workplaces expect of their new recruits. From this core skill flows all the specialist skills, such as web-based reporting, feature writing, sports reporting, plus radio and television reporting, which are all taught on the course.

You will gain skills in news writing, feature writing, interviewing, photography, radio and television reporting, web-based journalism, media law, media ethics and shorthand. You'll gain industry experience through several weeks' work placement at media organisations.

Upon completion, you may choose to continue with a six-month in-depth project to complete a Master of Journalism qualification.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF JOURNALISM

This world-leading degree in journalism is the only one of its kind in New Zealand. When you study the Master of Journalism at Massey, you will gain a qualification of top international standing. It is based on leading overseas qualifications, blending practical skills with a deeper, academic study of journalism. It builds a firm foundation for an exciting career in print and web journalism, broadcasting and other media-related areas, or will help you move to the next stage of your career.

There are two options for your study, depending on your level of experience. Both qualifications take 18 months full-time.

Pathway 1: If you have an undergraduate degree and wish to enter the journalism industry, you will learn the vital industry skills to be a successful journalist in our modern society. Your first two semesters (one year full-time study) will be equivalent to Massey's Postgraduate Diploma in Journalism. The remaining semester (six months full-time) is an extended, in-depth piece of journalism suitable for publication, with an additional academic component.

Pathway 2: The Master of Journalism offers another option for those who have journalism experience (three or more years) as well as an undergraduate degree. If you are a mid-career journalist wishing to enhance your journalism skills, develop your managerial abilities, teach journalism, or explore the world of public relations, this qualification will help you make the next step in your professional development. The first year consists of courses that make up Massey's Postgraduate Diploma in Communication. You will then progress to a project-based semester (six months full-time) to complete an extended, in-depth piece of journalism which completes your Master of Journalism.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

LEADERSHIP

MASTER OF ADVANCED LEADERSHIP PRACTICE (BLOCK MODE)

Massey's Master of Advanced Leadership Practice (MALP) is a unique qualification in New Zealand. You will gain from Massey's research-led approach, focusing on the latest findings in the fields of positive psychology and strengths-based leader development. We work hard to ensure your learning is relevant to your current situation, and career ambitions. We encourage you to bring challenges and current limitations from your workplace to the programme, ready for exploration.

The MALP is an intensive programme specifically designed for those who are currently in full-time positions. Experiential workshops conducted over a nine-month period cover all aspects of being an effective leader, from established and emerging leadership concepts to self-awareness, advanced negotiation and influence, talent and diversity management, sustainability, mentoring, succession and future thinking. The MALP is 180 credits, meaning you can complete the programme in 1.5 years.

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN APPLIED LINGUISTICS

The Postgraduate Diploma in Applied Linguistics (PGDipAppling) provides professionals in TESOL and all other areas of language teaching with a qualification meeting the specific combination of professional and research needs that has become increasingly important in both domestic and international settings.

Students in applied linguistics will use the theories, methods and problem-based approaches that address real-world language issues relating to second language acquisition and language use in an increasingly globalised and digitally-mediated world. Explore areas such as contextually-relevant teaching of languages, reflective practices to enhance teaching and learning, and the sociocultural demands of language learning and teaching. Learn from distinguished educators who have researched in areas such as online second language communities, distance/online language learning, sociocultural adjustment of international students and their teachers to their

MASTER OF APPLIED LINGUISTICS

The Master of Applied Linguistics (MAppLing) will enhance your knowledge and skills in the teaching, learning and use of language in a global multilingual world. It will equip you with a critical understanding of theory and practice in the field of applied linguistics. The MAppLing provides professionals in all areas of TESOL and other second language teaching with a qualification that meets their specific combination of professional and research needs.

You'll use theories, methods and problem-based approaches that address real-world language issues. The programme focuses on second-language acquisition and language use in an increasingly globalised and digitally-mediated world. Massey's research strengths include: heritage language learning; mother tongue maintenance; online second language communities; distance/online language learning; sociocultural adjustment of international students and their teachers to their presence in New Zealand universities; language learning and emotion; bi/multilingualism; oral proficiency.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

LOGISTICS AND SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN LOGISTICS AND SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT (BLOCK MODE)

Students may have the opportunity of proceeding to a master's programme on completion of the PGDipl&SCM, dependent upon achievement and in consultation with the relevant programme coordinator or Head of Institute/School.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

The Master of Supply Chain Management is available at Auckland, and the research report and thesis courses are also available by distance and at Palmerston North.

The Master of Supply Chain Management (MSCM) is Massey's most advanced qualification in the discipline. Graduates are literally masters of the subject area, equipped with a comprehensive understanding of supply chain concepts. The programme is designed to help students develop independent learning skills and a critical perspective. Graduates acquire the ability to rigorously solve complex problems and articulate insights to a range of stakeholders.

The management of supply chain relationships and optimization of global logistics are paramount to business success. Firms are constantly searching for innovative ways to enhance their value offerings hence many have come to realise the importance of capable supply chain professionals.

TOIHO KI ĀPITI MĀORI VISUAL ARTS

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN MĀORI VISUAL ARTS

The Postgraduate Diploma in Māori Visual Arts (PGDipMVA) is for students who already possess a qualification in Māori art or who can demonstrate equivalent expertise. It is a stepping-stone to the Master of Māori Visual Arts (MMVA). Most aspiring master's students first enrol in the postgraduate diploma, then transfer to the MMVA after a year if they achieve the required grade (B average or above).

Toiho ki Āpiti (Māori Visual Arts programme), welcomes all indigenous and Pākehā artists by encouraging engagement in research and applied practices relevant to individual cultural contexts. If you are an international student thinking of studying Māori Visual Arts at Massey, please contact Massey's

International Office for essential information about visa applications and other processes. In the PGDipMVA, you will balance independent creative work in the studio with learning in Māori studies or museum studies, although art-making will be what you spend most of your time doing. Students who have more than 10 years of exhibition practice can apply to undertake a studio-only postgraduate diploma; just talk to us about your situation.

The Māori Visual Arts programme embraces customary practices from carving to weaving to kowhaiwhai, and also fosters work that does not necessarily adhere to visual indicators of 'Māori' art. The work produced at Toiho ki Āpiti, especially at postgraduate level, often asks critical questions about identity and visual culture and exists at the interface of 'western' and 'indigenous' art.

Students can study on campus, with studio space provided, or by distance. Full-time and part-time options are available, so you can fit study around work and whanau commitments.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF MĀORI VISUAL ARTS

The Master of Māori Visual Arts (MMVA) is a postgraduate research qualification. Many of New Zealand's most respected Māori artists have completed their Master's with Toiho ki Āpiti, while more recent graduates are attracting recognition as emerging talent. The programme welcomes all indigenous and Pākehā artists by encouraging engagement in research and applied practices relevant to individual cultural contexts.

As a MMVA student, you will spend most of your time conceiving and making art, in a kaupapa Māori environment. Students pursue an individually designed programme of advanced studio practice in Māori or indigenous visual culture related to who they are (whakapapa) as well as their personal strengths and interests. The objective is to realise an individually conceived body of work that allows for the design and/or coordination of an exhibition. The programme's strength lies in its flexibility and responsiveness. You can study a broad range of media and ideas, in a way that fits with your other work or whanau commitments.

Most students initially enrol in a Postgraduate Diploma in Māori Visual Arts, and transfer to the Master's programme for the second year if they achieve the required standard (B grade or above). Students spend most of their time in studio, although they can choose to include courses from Māori studies or museum studies. This is an advanced research qualification, so even students who choose to do a studio-only Master's degree will study Māori research methodologies and submit a written exhibition report.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MUSEUM STUDIES

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN MUSEUM STUDIES

Massey's Postgraduate Diploma in Museum Studies (PGDipMusStud) will prepare you to meet the challenges of cultural organisations, contemporary museums, galleries and indigenous cultural centres face in maintaining heritage collections and delivering high quality services to communities. Your PGDipMusStud can be a bridge between previous academic study and professional work in a museum, gallery or other cultural or heritage organisation. It can also be a pathway to more advanced study at master's and doctoral degree level. You'll advance your knowledge of and abilities in heritage management and bicultural practices in the heritage sector, and build experience in problem solving and working in interdisciplinary teams. All qualifications are available to New Zealanders living overseas.

NURSING

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN NURSING (BLOCK MODE)

NOTE: Each endorsement includes a compulsory 'block mode' course taught on the Manawātū campus.

ENDORSEMENTS AVAILABLE: Mental Health; Older Persons' Health; Primary Health Care

The Postgraduate Certificate in Nursing (PGCertNurs) enables registered nurses to undertake clinical courses at postgraduate level, and develop their professional practice within a clinical speciality. It can be a stepping-stone to the Postgraduate Diploma in Nursing or a Master of Nursing, or preparation for advanced practice roles and/or Nurse Practitioner registration.

Massey is in the top 100 nursing programmes in the world (2016 QS World University Rankings Study now with New Zealand's top-ranked university nursing programme for research.

NOTE: Not suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN NURSING (BLOCK MODE)

The Postgraduate Diploma in Nursing (PGDipNurs) will prepare you for an advanced role in the New Zealand healthcare system. It advances the practice of registered nurses and prepares them for further development towards senior nursing roles. The Registered Nurse prescribing pathway is approved by the Nursing Council and meets the education requirements for authorisation with the Council as a designated prescriber.

Most nurses undertaking postgraduate study are in clinical practice, and study part-time. Postgraduate courses in Nursing are delivered in 'block mode' with face-to-face teaching in on-campus blocks, web-based teaching, relevant readings and other study material.

MASTER OF NURSING (BLOCK MODE)

Massey's Master of Nursing (MN) prepares registered nurses for a range of clinical leadership roles in specialty areas, education, management or research. The nurse practitioner (NP) pathway is approved by the Nursing Council and meets the education requirements for registration as a NP. Registered nurses continue to develop advanced knowledge and skills in their field of expertise through a mix of theoretical and clinical courses, including registration as a Nurse Practitioner – a nurse with prescribing rights – registered by the Nursing Council of New Zealand. The MN also prepares you to develop advanced clinical specialty knowledge within your chosen area of practice. The MN prepares you for other senior roles, including clinical nurse educator or a clinical nurse specialist. You'll study a mix of theoretical and clinical courses, and learn from academics and professional clinicians who are highly experienced registered nurses.

NOTE: Not suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

PHILOSOPHY

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

The Doctoral programme is open to academically capable students who have achieved First Class Honours/Distinction or Second Class Honours (Division I) in a master's or bachelor's with honours programme.

Candidates complete a PhD by thesis. Programmes are expected to take four years of full-time study, or up to six years of part-time study.

Specialisations within the Doctor of Philosophy are:

- Doctor of Philosophy (Massey Business School)
- Doctor of Philosophy (College of Creative Arts)
- Doctor of Philosophy (College of Humanities and Social Sciences)
- Doctor of Philosophy (College of Health)
- Doctor of Philosophy (College of Sciences)

See page 15 for more information about Massey's doctorates.

PLANNING

POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN PLANNING

The Postgraduate Certificate in Planning is the first half of the Postgraduate Diploma in Planning. When you graduate from this programme, you could have the opportunity to go on to the Postgraduate Diploma in Planning or the internationally-recognised professional qualification the Master of Resource and Environmental Planning.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN PLANNING

The Postgraduate Diploma in Planning (PGDipPlan) is well recognised in the industry. The qualification can be used to staircase to the Master of Resource and Environmental Planning.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

PSYCHOLOGY

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN PSYCHOLOGICAL PRACTICE

The Postgraduate Diploma in Psychological Practice is a professional programme that trains students to become registered psychologists. You'll get supervised training in the application of psychological theory and research to professional practice. Your training will be academically rigorous, and will reflect the highest standards of ethical, safe and culturally competent practice. During your internship you'll function like a professional psychologist, but under close supervision. You'll gain the skills and learn the responsibilities you need to later practise psychology independently.

Note: Applications must be with the School of Psychology no later than 1 October of the preceding year. No late applications will be accepted.

NOTE: Not suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

PUBLIC HEALTH

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN PUBLIC HEALTH

The Postgraduate Diploma of Public Health (PGDipPH) is the first 120 credits (one year full-time) of the 240-credit Master of Public Health. It is designed to develop the core public health competencies recognised internationally as essential for advanced public health practice.

The PGDipPH will give you leading-edge expertise in many different subjects such as epidemiology and biostatistics, Māori and Pacific health, health economics, occupational health, environmental health, programme evaluation, health inequalities and health policy. Massey's PGDipPH emphasises applied research and practical experience. You will be able to apply knowledge gained through coursework to projects that reflect your work and interests. You will understand the core functions of public health: health promotion, disease prevention, disease surveillance and monitoring, health assessment and health protection. You will also be able to identify and critically analyse public health problems and solutions from a range of perspectives including biological, environmental, behavioural, social and cultural determinants as well as from a systems perspective. These skills will be invaluable in the workplace.

You can study in a way that best suits you: block or distance courses, full-time or part-time. Study can be tailored specifically for your needs. Graduates of the PGDipPH can do further study for a Master of Public Health. Many of our graduates successfully achieve an academic career in teaching and research.

If you are a health professional, policy maker, community worker or researcher, you will benefit from unique shared learning opportunities with others from diverse backgrounds in the health sector, including the environment, occupational safety and health, and social services.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH

The Master of Public Health (MPH) is a 240-credit (two years, full-time) programme that develops specialised public health and leadership competencies. You'll gain a critical awareness of the public health research literature, reason and act independently in your professional life, and undertake collaborative research within interdisciplinary and inter-sectoral environments. Specialisation opportunities now include public health nutrition, occupational health and safety, ergonomics, health promotion, and maternal and child health. Students in the MPH complete a work-integrated public health practical internship equivalent to one semester full-time, often negotiated within their existing workplace. You will learn to reason and act independently as a professional working in public health. You will be able to contribute to policy development at local and national levels, and to public health knowledge through scholarly inquiry and publication. You will also be able to apply your cutting-edge knowledge to solving public health challenges.

Options for the MPH include taking electives matching your interests, or a more research-focused route where students can elect to undertake a significant (90 credit) public health research dissertation project relevant to your public health work, interests and experiences and supervised by our team of public health researchers.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa

QUALITY SYSTEMS

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN QUALITY SYSTEMS

You will benefit from your lecturers' real-world experience and continual involvement in research and academic debate around key quality issues. Award-winning, they are widely published in key international journals, including a staff member who is an associate editor of the international journal Total Quality Management and Business Excellence. Their experience includes senior roles in industries as varied as oil and gas, engineering, IT, the electrical utility industry, project management and – of course – quality assurance.

Students may have the opportunity of proceeding to a master's programme on completion of the PGDipQS, dependent upon achievement and in consultation with the relevant programme coordinator or Head of Institute/School.

NOTE: Suitable for approved international students studying via Distance Learning.

MASTER OF QUALITY SYSTEMS

Massey University offers the only quality management tertiary qualifications in Australasia. The MQS is endorsed by the New Zealand Organisation for Quality (NZOQ) and the UK Chartered Quality Institute (CQI).

Massey's Master of Quality Systems (MQS) programme focuses on developing critical awareness of and expertise in the following areas:

- > Quality management and its component aspects (inspection, quality control, assurance and continual improvement).
- > Contemporary quality thinking and methods including ISO systems, statistical thinking, systems thinking, Business Excellence, lean and six sigma improvement.
- > The application of management theory to quality systems.
- > Ability to conduct self-directed research in an aspect of quality management theory or practice.
- > Research methods.
- > Management of people undertaking quality projects and the people-related aspects of quality programme implementation.

A research methods course gives you the skills to undertake in-depth research, followed by your own in-depth research (thesis) on an area of interest to you.

The MQS is 180 credits, which means you can now complete this qualification in 1.5 years of full-time study. The 180 credits incorporate the Post Graduate Diploma-level qualification, which is a possible exit point after 120 credits are obtained. If you study part-time the qualification takes between 2.5 and five years.

RESOURCE AND ENVIRONMENTAL PLANNING

MASTER OF RESOURCE AND ENVIRONMENTAL PLANNING

Shape the places where we live, work and play, and become a top-quality planning professional with a Master of Resource and Environmental Planning (MRP). As a planner, you could work in a diverse range of workplaces. You'll get perspectives on both the natural and urban environment, making you a well-rounded professional capable of working anywhere. There's a strong emphasis on developing critical skills that will ensure you can respond to the rapid change in our political, urban and resource environments. The knowledge and skills you develop will help future-proof your career. Massey's MREP is accredited by the New Zealand Planning Institute. This qualification is recognised internationally. You'll learn from staff who are planning practitioners and leaders in their chosen research fields. The MREP is the only accredited planning degree you can do wherever you live. You can study in block mode and by distance learning using Massey's online learning platform, Stream. Most students complete their degree while in the workplace. This reduces the financial strain of making a career change.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

SCIENCE

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE WITH HONOURS

MAJORS INCLUDE: Agricultural Science; Animal Science; Biochemistry; Biological Sciences; Chemistry; Computer Science; Earth Science; Ecology; Exercise and Sport Science; Genetics; Geography; Horticultural Science; Human Nutrition; Mathematics; Microbiology; Nanoscience; Physics; Physiology; Plant Biology; Psychology; Soil Science; Statistics; Zoology. The BSc (Hons) is a prestigious qualification that students frequently pursue when aspiring to a research or academic career and planning to undertake doctoral study. It can also be used as a final qualification. Generally, the course is three quarters taught courses and one quarter supervised research. As a separate qualification of advanced courses and research in the major subject taken in the BSc, the honours programme can lead to a Master of Science by thesis only.

SOCIAL SECTOR EVALUATION RESEARCH

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN SOCIAL SECTOR EVALUATION RESEARCH

The Postgraduate Diploma in Social Sector Evaluation Research (PGDipSSER) develops skills and capacities of policy researchers, evaluators, and managers in both government and non-government settings. The programme focuses on increasing knowledge and theoretical understandings and improving technical and professional skills in areas such as professional evaluation theory, methods, and practice.

The programme strengthens knowledge and understanding about evaluation in social sector contexts such as social development, employment, health, justice, Māori and Pasifika development, and community development. Through increasing the skills of individual evaluators, and improving our collective understanding of the value and purpose of evaluation, we aim to build evaluation capacity in New Zealand.

SOCIAL SERVICES SUPERVISION

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN SOCIAL SERVICES SUPERVISION

The Postgraduate Diploma in Social Service Supervision (PGDipSocSS) offers an advanced qualification for professionally qualified social and community workers and other social service professional supervisors. The programme is intended for those who have achieved a high level of professional competence and are currently supervising social and community work practitioners and/or social work students on fieldwork placements.

The diploma is designed to assist you in developing and defining a personal model of supervision relevant to the practice context you work in. You will be introduced to selected theories and models of professional social service supervision, followed by more in-depth exploration of the administrative, educational, and clinical functions of supervision. Assessment is designed to be immediately relevant to your role as a social service supervisor.

SOCIAL WORK

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN SOCIAL WORK

The Postgraduate Diploma in Social Work meets an increasing professional demand for a post-qualifying pathway for professionally qualified and registered social workers. Massey is the only university in New Zealand that offers post-qualifying social work courses by distance, so you can study wherever you like, to fit in with your other commitments.

You'll learn to read and appraise the latest social work research, and master methodological and theoretical issues and research methods. You'll also deepen your knowledge of cultural competence as it relates to research and practice principles with Māori and other diverse cultural groups.

The programme will prepare you for leadership in specific areas of social work practice through the dissemination of information in workplaces and through clinical supervision and mentoring of students and beginning practitioners.

MASTER OF APPLIED SOCIAL WORK

The Master of Applied Social Work (MAppSW) will prepare you for practice and registration as a social worker in New Zealand and most other countries. The course conforms to national and international guidelines by including two different supervised field experiences. This 240-credit master's degree is designed for students who have a bachelor's degree in a field other than social work but wish to change careers.

You'll benefit from our research-informed, research-leading, forward-thinking and academically credible programmes. They'll help you contribute to knowledge-building in Aotearoa New Zealand and internationally. MAppSW students should read and note the 'fit and proper' requirements on the Social Workers Registration Board website. All MAppSW students will be vetted by the New Zealand Police (and/or equivalent overseas jurisdiction). A police record may not be a barrier to field placement, but full disclosure of any convictions in New Zealand and/or overseas is essential. All students will be required to meet screening in relation to the Vulnerable Children's Act requirements. All students must have a current full driving licence valid in New Zealand by the start of their field placements.

MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK

Excellent social workers are always striving to gain new knowledge. The Master of Social Work (MSW) is the right programme for you if you already have a professional qualification in social work and want to improve your practice. The MSW programme is intended for practitioners who wish to undertake advanced study of a specific aspect of social and community work. The MSW is flexible and offers you opportunities for both full and part-time study.

The MSW is a thesis-based programme that encourages social workers to pursue research in a particular field of practice, population, or area of interest. It equips social workers to develop and use research skills in their practice settings and keep current with the very latest theories and practice. Practice-based social work research can include needs assessments, programme development, implementation assessment and programme evaluation. It also includes theory development in a New Zealand context.

DOCTOR OF SOCIAL WORK

Massey's Doctor of Social Work (DSW) is the first social work doctorate offered in New Zealand, and is recognised internationally. The DSW is designed to advance your social work and social development knowledge at local, national and international levels. The DSW is not the same as a PhD. It consists of a combination of course work or courses and a 65,000-word research thesis. A Doctor of Philosophy or PhD is achieved solely through a research thesis of 100,000 words. The DSW offers you a curriculum designed to reflect the latest international developments in social work, social development theory and practice. You can be confident you are delivering state-of-the-art solutions.

The DSW is offered both full-time and part-time so you can fit study in with your other commitments. Students can expect to study four years full-time, or up to six years part-time. Class work will take up to two years, before beginning your thesis.

SPORT MANAGEMENT

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN SPORT MANAGEMENT

Massey's Postgraduate Diploma in Sport Management (PGDipSportMgt) gives you the opportunity to join the pathway to the Master of Sport Management, or to progress your career.

The increasing professionalisation of sport means there is a growing demand for qualified managers to manage and promote sports affairs. The PGDipSportMgt combines broad business training and specialist skills to give you an excellent basis for careers in all areas of sport management.

No other New Zealand university offers a similar sports qualification in conjunction with a business school. The course is specifically designed to meet the needs of sport organisations. You will gain a valuable, flexible and highly marketable qualification, giving you skills and in-depth understanding in a broad range of management and sport-related areas.

You can complete this qualification in one year of full-time study. If you study part-time it will take between two and a half and five years.

Massey has strong strategic partnerships with regional and national sport organisations. You will meet sport industry professionals through in-class guest lectures, field trips, the 60-credit professional practice course, and researching for assignments.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

MASTER OF SPORT MANAGEMENT

The MSportMgt is a unique qualification in New Zealand. No other university offers a similar sports qualification in conjunction with a business school, making it the country's only professional practice, 180-credit, sport management-specific qualification. The course is specifically designed to meet the needs of sport organisations. You will gain a valuable, flexible and highly marketable qualification, giving you skills and in-depth understanding in a broad range of management and sport-related areas.

This new 180-credit programme will get you qualified in less time than a traditional master's degree. You can complete it in 12 months of full-time study. If you study part-time it will take between two and a half and five years. The MSportMgt can be studied full-time or part-time, through distance learning or internally at Massey's Auckland campus.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa.

STATISTICS

MASTER OF APPLIED STATISTICS

The explosion in the amount of data available has made indispensable those who can interpret this information. The Master of Applied Statistics is a high-quality programme combining taught and research courses at postgraduate level. It is a 180-credit qualification that can be completed in 18 months of full-time study, and includes a 60-credit research report.

As a Massey Master of Applied Statistics student you will learn the professional practice of statistics, and the quantitative skills to conduct robust statistical analyses that are effective in the real world. You will gain competence in the use of statistical software, including the R package. You will graduate with the skills to draw appropriate conclusions from a statistical analysis and be able to communicate them to both statistical and non-statistical audiences.

Your lecturers in the Master of Applied Statistics (MAppStat) are experts in their field, leading international statistical research and applying their work to worldwide issues. They are making contributions in epidemiology, where their models are helping us better understand and forecast the spread of diseases; in development studies, where they are mapping levels of poverty and malnutrition in third-world countries; and in geophysics,

TEACHING AND LEARNING

MASTER OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

If you're passionate about teaching and learning and want to make a difference in young people's lives, become a teacher with an advanced qualification. This new 180-credit master's degree is an advanced one-year innovative and exemplary approach to teacher education (primary and secondary).

The Master of Teaching and Learning (MTchgLn) is taught collaboratively with partner schools to provide unique high-quality teaching, learning and mentoring experiences in school, university and community settings. Some distinctive features of this programme are: individual and small group mentoring; an assessment centre experience to identify your personal strengths and customise your learning needs during the programme; and the rich blended learning community. This cutting-edge approach to teacher education is designed to equip you with the adaptive expertise and self-efficacy to meet the needs of all learners. As classrooms become increasingly diverse and advanced, education faces a range of new and unexpected challenges. At Massey we are committed to addressing these challenges and shaping our future nation. Through our inquiry courses we develop teachers who are the problem solvers and game changers of 21st century education.

Graduates of this programme will be eligible to apply for provisional registration with the Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand.

Applications close on 10 December of the preceding year.

TEACHING AND LEARNING IN MĀORI MEDIUM: TE AHO PAEREWĀ

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA OF TEACHING AND LEARNING IN MĀORI MEDIUM: TE AHO PAEREWĀ

Massey's Te Aho Paerewa is the tertiary sector's first postgraduate programme in Māori medium initial teacher education

Te Aho Paerewa will help you develop exemplary approaches to learning and teaching in Kura Kaupapa Māori. You'll learn to practise and develop adaptive expertise in the Māori medium context.

The programme offers a professional and whānau-centred environment. You'll work in a dynamic collaborative, partnership model. The programme begins with a wānanga (live-in block course) which will build the essential whanaungatanga amongst Tauiira. The programme is delivered in partnership with Te Rūnanganui o Nga Kura Kaupapa Māori o Aotearoa which means you will have access to many of the key experts and leading architects of kura kaupapa Māori as your lecturers.

Graduates of this programme will be eligible to apply for provisional registration with the Education Council of Aotearoa New Zealand.

Applications close on 10 December of the preceding year. Late applications will be considered for entry if there are places available on the programme.

VETERINARY MEDICINE

MASTER OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

The Master of Veterinary Medicine (MVM) attracts students from around the globe to this world-leading distance education programme, offering practicing veterinarians a flexible, modular system of study via distance. You may choose from a wide range of small animal, large animal, equine, epidemiology and veterinary business courses.

Your courses will advance your knowledge and skills to a level beyond that obtained in your primary veterinary degree. Courses can be completed for continuing education, or put towards a Master of Veterinary Medicine or other qualification. On-campus workshops are held in Palmerston North, New Zealand. Attendance at these workshops is strongly recommended, but not compulsory (with the exception of the capstone Contact Workshops which are compulsory either in-person or online). All courses require a computer and internet access.

NOTE: Suitable for approved international students studying via Distance Learning.

VETERINARY SCIENCE

POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN VETERINARY SCIENCE

ENDORSEMENTS INCLUDE: No Endorsement; Veterinary Epidemiology; Veterinary Medicine; Veterinary Public Health.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Veterinary Science (PGDipVSc) is open to veterinary graduates. It consists of not less than one year of full-time study (or its equivalent in part-time study). Courses or other work prescribed are at an advanced level that builds on attainment in the academic field of the prior degree.

NOTE: Suitable for international students requiring NZ study visa except for the Veterinary Medicine endorsement.

MASTER OF VETERINARY SCIENCE

Massey's MVSc is an internationally-recognised veterinary degree, most suitable for those who would like to undertake in-depth research in a particular area of interest.

This course is run on our Manawatū campus in Palmerston North, host to the only veterinary school in New Zealand. Massey's well-equipped facilities include an equine hospital, 24-hour pet hospital and sheep, beef, dairy and deer farms, all located near campus. The Wildbase wildlife hospital is the only dedicated wildlife hospital in New Zealand.

The Master of Veterinary Science is a 240 credit programme with a 120-credit research component. It is available part-time or full-time.

NOTE: Not suitable for international students

VETERINARY STUDIES

MASTER OF VETERINARY STUDIES

SUBJECTS INCLUDE: No Endorsement ; Conservation Veterinary Medicine; Epidemiology; Veterinary Public Health.

The Master of Veterinary Studies (MVS) is an internationally-recognised veterinary degree, most suited to veterinarians who are focused on professional development. It takes place on the Manawatū campus only. Massey's MVS can be built around your particular academic needs. You may choose from endorsements in epidemiology, public health and conservation veterinary medicine, or develop your skills across any area of veterinary science by choosing a MVS with no endorsement. Within the MVS the range of research opportunities is wide and includes most fields of veterinary science from anatomy to animal welfare.

There is a wide range of taught courses for you to choose from, depending on your area of interest and the endorsement that you choose. These include epidemiology, parasitology, conservation medicine, physiology, ruminant livestock feeding, dairy, sheep, beef, deer or poultry production, animal welfare science and much more.

This degree is 180 credits, which means you can complete this degree in 1.5 years full-time. You can choose two different levels of research for this degree. You can complete a 60-credit research report, or – if you would like to complete more in-depth research – you can work on a 120-credit thesis to complete the research component of this degree. The remainder of this qualification is taught.
