Purpose

To assist a student with funding through their final two years of study for Bachelor of Veterinary Science who have a particular interest in Large Animal Health.

Value and Tenure

The value of the scholarship will be $6,000 with a tenure of two years.

Typical Number on Offer

Typically, one scholarship will be awarded annually.

Eligibility

Applicants must be enrolled in full time study for the degree of the Bachelor of Veterinary Science in their fourth year.

Selection Criteria

The selection will be based on academic merit and the applicants experience as highlighted in a CV.

Selection Panel

The scholarship is awarded by the University Scholarships Committee on the recommendation of the Te Puke Veterinary Service's scholarship committee, which will include a contracting veterinarian.

Conditions of the Scholarship

Candidates must have a particular interest in large animals and ideally be prepared to do some of their practical work experience during the spring in the employment of the Te Puke Veterinary Centre Limited, based at Te Puke in the Bay of Plenty.

The scholarship shall be awarded to a fourth-year student only and this student will receive $3,000 for that year and an additional $3,000 for their final year of the BVSc, subject to satisfactory academic progress, for which the Scholarship Committee will require a written report from the appropriate authorities and the student.

Should the recipient discontinue full-time academic they would relinquish the scholarship for the term of the scholarship not then expired.

The scholarship may be held concurrently with any other scholarship or award, provided this is not considered by the Scholarship Committee to constitute a conflict of interest.

Successful applicants for the scholarship shall be paid in four equal instalments over two calendar years, the first in May and the second August upon confirmation of enrolment in semesters one and two, following the official withdrawal dates for these semesters. The subsequent payments will be subject to the recipient passing all courses.
